Headteacher Message

Dear Parents and Carers,
I hope you enjoyed a lovely Christmas break and found time to be with family and friends. It is great to see all of the children back smiling, full of stories and looking smart. The staff have planned some exciting learning opportunities for this term including a year 3 trip to Butser farm, a year 4 trip to a Hindu Temple, a visit from the RNLI in year 5 and a visit to a Mosque in year 6. The classrooms and corridors are looking amazing thanks to the hard work and dedication of our staff, many of whom came in during their holidays to prepare.

Today we are hosting the teaching staff from a nearby school for the morning. The purpose of this visit is for them to see the wonderful teaching practice and learning that goes on at Southway. Southway is also hosting the Headteachers and maths subject leaders of many of the junior schools in West Sussex this term. Again, this is to share good practice and ideas. We are already attracting attention for the way we teach maths and provide feedback to children and I am delighted that the work of the school is being recognised further afield.

Last term myself and the Headteacher of a local school visited another Burgess Hill school to carry out a mini 'inspection', with the focus being on the quality of teaching and learning. We spent all day there, looked at the school's own documentation, spoke to staff and children and spent a lot of time in classrooms. We were able to highlight the strengths we saw and confirm the school's own view of itself as well as offer some suggestions for improvement. We then provided the Headteacher with a written report which was subsequently shared with their governing body. This term we will repeat this process in another school and in summer Southway will be 'inspected'. This peer to peer evaluation is invaluable, being both supportive but also challenging. We are not afraid of criticism when it offers us a way forward. It is certainly the way Southway will continue to improve. Our philosophy is to be 'inward facing but outward looking'.

BOOK CLUB REVIEW

Diary of a Wimpy Kid:
Cabin Fever
by Jeff Kinney

Reviewed by: Anais Harris &
Bethan Wright

This book will draw you in like no other as it's not hard going, but still enjoyable.

Gregg, the main character, dreads the thought of spending any quality time with his family, he'd much rather stay in and play video games with his bet friend Rowley. When he is forced to go on a snowy adventure with no access to video games whatsoever he is forced to take immediate action. Gregg, our favourite character, faces a load of obstacles in the way, but will he survive his cabin fever?

We rate this book 10/10 for its amazing quality writing!

Following our Year 5 visit from Fire & Rescue we received this lovely letter of thanks for the kind silver coin donations made on the day:

'Thank you very much for the kind donation £31.60 raised by Southway Junior School in Burgess Hill.

All donations are gratefully received to assist the Charity in providing Recuperation and Rehabilitation services for serving and retired members of the Fire Fighting community.'
